MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT & SECRETARY-TREASURER

AFSCME Family –

Every two years, AFSCME members come together to conduct the business of our union, to set priorities for the future, to renew our commitment to our work and to each other.

As we prepare to meet in Los Angeles for AFSCME's 46th International Convention, the mood across our union is one of pride, promise and optimism.

In recent years, we have confronted crises that threatened to destroy everything we have built together. First, there was a Supreme Court decision that imposed right to work in the public sector. Then, a global pandemic put our lives and livelihoods in jeopardy.

But we did not give up or give in. We showed unprecedented courage by staring down COVID-19 to serve our communities even under the most adverse conditions imaginable. We continued to strengthen our union through day-in, day-out engagement with both members and potential members. Just like we always do, the Mean Green Machine revved its engine and continued to roar.

We fought for and won a federal aid package that invested hundreds of billions of dollars in public services. Those resources allowed us to negotiate historic new contracts that honored our sacrifices. We are pursuing an aggressive organizing agenda to grow our union. Through our Staff the Front Lines initiative, we are stepping up to the challenge of recruiting and retaining more public service workers to meet the urgent needs of our communities.

We are, more than ever before, Front Line & Fearless.

Even with all the momentum we have, we still must raise our game. For example, there is so much at stake in this fall's elections – at the local, state and national levels. We have to bring our very best. We have no margin for error and no choice but to deliver big victories for pro-worker candidates up and down the ballot.

We are confident that AFSCME will be ready for that fight and all the big challenges ahead. With faith in one another, with a clear understanding of the task at hand, with an unshakable commitment to building union power together, and especially with the work we will do at the Convention, we will get it done – as we always do – the AFSCME Strong way.

See you in Los Angeles in August.

In solidarity,

Lee Saunders,
International President

Elissa McBride,
International Secretary-Treasurer

46th INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION CALL

To all Local Unions, Councils and Retiree Chapters of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO

GREETINGS

The 46th International Convention of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, will be held at the Los Angeles Convention Center, 1201 S. Figueroa Street, Los Angeles, California, beginning at 10 a.m. Monday, August, 12, 2024. It will continue through Friday, August 16, 2024, unless the business of the Convention is completed sooner.

The following materials summarize the Constitutional Convention procedures. However, reference should be made by all interested persons to the International Union Constitution, particularly to Article IV and the Elections Code (Appendix D).

REPRESENTATION

"The basis of local union representation in conventions shall be determined from the average per capita tax actually paid to the Federation for the twelve consecutive months ending with the fourth full month preceding the opening of the convention." (Article IV, Section 5) The basis for representation in the 46th International Convention will be the average per capita tax paid for the months of May 2023 through April 2024.

"Locals shall be entitled to delegates on the basis of membership as follows: 100 or fewer, one delegate; more than 100 but not exceeding 200, two delegates; more than 200 but not exceeding 300, three delegates; more than 300 but not exceeding 400, four delegates; more than 400, one additional delegate for each 1,000 additional members or fraction thereof." (Article IV, Section 6)

"Regardless of the number of delegates, locals shall be entitled to vote on the basis of one vote for each member or fraction thereof." (Article IV, Section 7)

"In the case of a local composed of two or more locals that have merged" since May 1, 2023, "the combined average per capita tax of the merging locals shall be the basis of representation." (Article IV, Section 5)

"In any case where a local has been divided into two or more locals" since May 1, 2023, "the total average per capita tax shall be divided among the newly created locals in direct proportion to their respective averages since the division, and this shall constitute their respective bases of representation." (Article IV, Section 5)

"In the case of a newly organized or newly affiliated local which has been in existence or has been affiliated for less than the full twelve-month period, the average per capita tax for that portion of the twelve-month period during which the local has been in existence or has been affiliated shall be the basis for representation; provided, however, that any local which was formed" after April 2024 "shall be entitled to representation only in accordance with the provision of Section 8 below." (Article IV, Section 5)

"Any local formed or affiliated after the twelve-month period" (i.e., after April 2024) "... shall be entitled to send one fraternal delegate to serve as an official observer without voice or vote." (Article IV, Section 8)

"Each chartered council shall be entitled to one delegate and one vote." (Article IV, Section 8)

"Each chartered retiree chapter shall be entitled to delegates on the basis of membership, to be determined in the manner provided for local unions in Article IV, Section 5 of this Constitution, as follows: 10,000 or fewer, one delegate; more than 10,000 but not exceeding 25,000, two delegates; more than 25,000 but not exceeding 50,000, three delegates; more than 50,000, four delegates. Each delegate representing a retiree chapter shall be entitled to one vote.” (Article IV, Section 8)

“Any member of the International Executive Board and any member of the Judicial Panel who is not elected as a delegate representing a subordinate body shall nevertheless be entitled to all the rights and privileges of a delegate except the right to vote.” (Article IV, Section 8)

Note: Upon receipt of per capita tax payments for all months through April 2024, notification will be sent to any local union/retiree chapter entitled to more or fewer delegates. Additional credential forms will be provided should an affiliate's delegate entitlement increase.

ELECTION OF DELEGATES

In all matters pertaining to the election of delegates, please refer to the AFSCME Elections Code, Appendix D of the International Union Constitution.

“All delegates shall, after due notice of nominations and elections has been given, be elected in the respective subordinate bodies. Subordinate bodies may also elect an alternate delegate for each delegate. Election shall be by secret ballot, except in instances where a nominee is unopposed.” (Article IV, Section 9)

“A delegate representing a local union must,” from April 2024, “until the opening of the convention, be a member in good standing of the local represented.” (Article IV, Section 12)

“With the exceptions provided in Section 15, however, two or more locals within the same council, organizing committee, state, commonwealth, or territory may unite in sending to the convention a delegate who meets the above qualifications in one of such locals,” provided that such delegate must first be elected as a delegate from his or her own local before being elected to represent another local. (Article IV, Section 12)

“No [local union] delegate may represent more than five locals.” (Article IV, Section 12)

“A delegate representing a council must,” from April 2024, until the opening of the convention, “be a member in good standing of a local union which is affiliated with such council. A delegate representing a council may, if elected in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 12 above, also serve as a delegate for not more than four local unions affiliated with the council. ... No delegate may represent more than five subordinate bodies.” (Article IV, Section 13)

“Before a local may be represented by a delegate who is not a member of the local, the membership of the local shall first vote on the following question: ‘Shall this local elect as a convention delegate a person who is not a member of this local union?’ If the majority of those voting on the question vote in the affirmative, the local may then proceed to elect a delegate.” (Article IV, Section 12)

“No member of the International Executive Board and no salaried employee of the International Union and no member of the Judicial Panel shall serve as a delegate from any local except the local of which such person is a member or of the council with which that local is affiliated.” (Article IV, Section 15)

“A delegate representing a retiree chapter must,” from April 2024, “until the opening of the convention, be a member in good standing of such retiree chapter or of a retiree subchapter affiliated with such chapter.” (Article IV, Section 14)

“No nomination or election of delegates shall be held more than 120 days prior to the opening of the convention [i.e., prior to April 14, 2024]; ... this restriction shall not apply to a delegate from a subordinate body which normally meets less often than quarterly, nor shall it affect anyone who is a delegate pursuant to the constitution of a subordinate body by virtue of election to an office therein.” (Article IV, Section 11)

“Locals entitled to more than one delegate may send fewer than their quota of delegates and the delegates present may cast the entire vote of the local. ...” (Article IV, Section 7)

“No delegate shall be permitted to register after 1 p.m. on the second day of the convention,” Tuesday, August 13, 2024. (Article IV, Section 19)

Note: No alternate seeking to replace a delegate may do so unless the alternate has officially registered as a delegate by 1 p.m. on Tuesday, August 13, 2024.

NOTICE OF ELECTION OF INTERNATIONAL OFFICERS

At the 46th International Convention, “there shall be elected an International President and an International Secretary-Treasurer, both to be elected by the convention-at-large, and International Vice Presidents without priority, to be elected by the delegates representing locals, councils and retiree chapters in each of the Legislative Districts. ...” (Article IV, Section 26)

“One International Vice President shall be elected by the delegates ... in each of the Legislative Districts established in Article IV, Section 27; provided, however, that in any Legislative District containing local unions having a total membership in excess of five percent but less than fifteen percent of the total membership of all local unions in the International Union, two International Vice Presidents shall be elected; and provided further, that in any Legislative District containing local unions having a total membership in excess of fifteen percent of the total membership of all local unions in the International Union, three International Vice Presidents shall be elected.” (Article IV, Section 28)

The precise date and time for the holding of nominations and elections will be established in the rules adopted by the Convention.

“To be eligible for election as International President or as International Secretary-Treasurer, a nominee must have been a member in the Federation for at least five years continuously at the time of the election.” (Article IV, Section 32)

“To be eligible for election as an International Vice President, a nominee must have been a member in a local or locals within the Legislative District the nominee seeks to represent for at least three years continuously at the time of the election, except as provided below. In any election for International Vice President in a Legislative District in which the combined total membership in the local unions in such district has increased by more than fifty percent since the last certification of membership immediately preceding a convention at which elections were held, the requirement of three years’ continuous membership shall stand suspended from effect.” (Article IV, Section 33)

“No salaried employee of the Federation shall serve as an International Vice President. No member of the Judicial Panel and no person who has served as a member of the Judicial Panel during any part of the calendar year in which the convention is held shall be eligible for election at the convention.” (Article IV, Section 32 and 33)

CREDENTIALS

“The names of the delegates and of alternates, if any, shall be certified by the president and secretary of each subordinate body to the International Secretary-Treasurer at International Headquarters at least twenty days [July 23, 2024] prior to the convention. If such certification is by a local union and includes two or more delegates, the certification shall designate one of the delegates as Chairperson of the delegation.” (Article IV, Section 9)

Note: The enclosed credential forms are to be filled out and signed. Before mailing, make two (2) copies. The original should be forwarded to the International headquarters as soon as the delegate and alternate, if any, have been elected. One copy is to be retained by the delegate and presented at the time of the delegate’s registration at the convention. Another copy is to be retained in the files of the local, council or retiree chapter.

To ensure that the delegate representing your local, council or retiree chapter is properly seated, mail the original credential form so that it is received or postmarked no later than Tuesday, July 23, 2024, using the enclosed postage-paid envelope.

“Any delegate whose credential was not received by the International Secretary-Treasurer by the twentieth day [July 23, 2024] prior to the convention or addressed to the International Secretary-Treasurer and postmarked by the twentieth day [July 23, 2024] prior to the convention shall be considered an irregular delegate. No irregular delegate shall be seated at the opening of the convention. ... Following the adoption of the convention rules, irregular delegates may be seated by a majority vote of the convention.” (Article IV, Section 19)

RESOLUTIONS

“Resolutions, including proposals to amend the Constitution, to be introduced for consideration at any convention shall be signed by the president and the secretary of a subordinate body or by one or more certified delegates. Such resolutions shall be prepared and signed in duplicate and sent to the International Secretary-Treasurer at International Headquarters and postmarked or sent electronically at least thirty days [July 13, 2024] prior to the opening of the convention.” (Article IV, Section 22)

Proposed resolutions and constitutional amendments may be sent to resolutions@afscme.org.

No constitutional amendments postmarked or received electronically after July 13, 2024 may be introduced for consideration. Resolutions may be introduced after that date “if consent is given by a two-thirds vote of the convention.” The International President or the International Executive Board, however, “may introduce a resolution or constitutional amendment for consideration by the convention at any time up to and including the fourth day of the convention.” (Article IV, Section 22)

REQUIREMENTS FOR ELECTION OF DELEGATES

REQUIREMENTS

All local union delegates and alternate delegates to the Convention must be elected by secret ballot vote of the membership of their respective locals. Delegates representing councils or retiree chapters who intend to participate in the nomination and the election of the International officers must be elected by secret ballot vote of the membership of their council's affiliated local unions or by vote of the members of such delegate's retiree chapter or its subchapters. Otherwise, council or retiree chapter delegates who are not participating in the nomination or election of International officers may be elected by the delegates to the council Convention, delegate assembly or other similar body of the council, or by delegates to the retiree chapter Convention, but such election must be by secret ballot vote of those delegates. A secret ballot is, of course, unnecessary when a candidate is unopposed. However, the rest of the rules regarding notice, qualification, nomination, etc., must be followed.

The following requirements are mandated by the AFSCME Elections Code in Appendix D of the International Constitution and federal law. Appointment or election of delegates by the executive board of a subordinate body does not meet these requirements.

1. Notice of the nomination and election of Convention delegates must be given by mail to all members in good standing at least 15 days before the date or dates on which the nomination and election are to be held. The notice requirements may be fulfilled by mailing such notice of nomination and election to the last known address of the member OR by publication either in a local union paper or newsletter sent by mail to each member at their last known home address rather than by a separate mailing. However, notice by publication must still be given 15 days prior to the nomination and election, and the notice must be prominently placed in the paper or newsletter. The requirement that notice of nomination and election be given by mail means that such notice must be sent through the U.S. Postal Service. Distribution of the notice by email or through an employer's interoffice mail system will not satisfy this requirement.
2. Nominations may be made at a regular or special meeting by a local union member or, in the case of a council, by a delegate to such council or, in the case of a retiree chapter, by a delegate or member of such chapter. Nominations may also be made by a nominating committee, unless prohibited by the constitution of the subordinate body. Those nominated shall be afforded the opportunity to decline, and the name of any nominee who declines shall not appear on the ballot. Write-in votes shall not be valid for any purpose.
3. All members in good standing must be allowed to vote. There may be no proxy ballots. No member may cast a vote on behalf of another member.
4. The voting itself must be done by secret ballot, either through the use of a machine, a closed-in voting booth, a mail referendum, or other proper and accepted procedure. Electronic voting systems may be used to conduct secret ballot elections; provided the system used satisfies the requirements of the International Constitution and the LMRDA. Local unions with 2,000 or more members, and Councils, may conduct secret ballot elections with the use of remote electronic voting systems. Local unions with less than 2,000 members may use electronic voting systems upon the pre-approval of the International President. Any electronic voting system used must satisfy the secrecy requirements of the International Constitution and LMRDA. Locals using electronic voting systems must make an alternative voting method available to any member who does not have access to the electronic system selected.

5. Every candidate for election may have an observer present at the polls while the polls are open and when the votes are counted. The observer must be a member of the Federation.
  6. Unlike the election of local union officers, the election of local union delegates to the International Convention does not require a majority of the votes cast unless that requirement is specifically stated in the local's constitution.
  7. All election records, including ballots, must be retained for at least one year after the election.

ELIGIBILITY TO VOTE IN ELECTIONS

The U.S. Department of Labor has ruled that if an affiliate constitution provides that an officer of the affiliate who is elected to such office by secret ballot is also to be a delegate to the International Convention, by virtue of such office the officer is properly considered elected as a delegate. In the case of a local, the secret ballot vote must be a vote of the membership of the local. An officer elected to such office by the executive board of a local union to fill a vacancy is not properly elected as a delegate, since such officer was not elected by a secret ballot vote of the membership of the local. The same procedure holds true for a council or retiree chapter except that an officer elected by secret ballot vote of the delegates to the council Convention, delegate assembly or other similar body of the council, or elected by delegates at the retiree chapter Convention, cannot participate in the nomination or election of International Officers.

DELEGATE & ALTERNATE CREDENTIAL FORM INSTRUCTIONS

Enclosed with the Convention Call mailing are credential forms that must be used to report those members elected by an affiliate to serve as a delegate or alternate delegate at the International Convention. Below are instructions for completing these forms and submitting them to the International Secretary-Treasurer.

PLEASE READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS CAREFULLY. Incomplete credentials may prevent a delegate or alternate from being seated at the Convention.

CREDENTIAL FORMS

There are different credential forms for each type of affiliate. The applicable forms for your affiliate are included in the Convention Call mailing.

Local Unions:                    BLUE Delegate Credential – A separate form must be submitted for each local union delegate.

GREEN Alternate Credential – One or two local union alternates may be submitted on a single form.

Councils:                        YELLOW Delegate and Alternate Credential – One Council delegate and one Council alternate may be submitted on a single form.

Retiree Chapters:                PINK Delegate and Alternate Credential – One Retiree Chapter delegate and one Retiree Chapter alternate may be submitted on a single form.

SPECIAL DESIGNATIONS (Local Unions Only)

There are special designations on the Local Union Delegate and Local Union Alternate credential forms that must be made by any local union sending more than one delegate or more than one alternate to the Convention.

The LOCAL UNION DELEGATE CREDENTIAL contains a box in the top left corner of the form in which the local must designate only one of its delegates to serve as the chairperson of the local's Convention delegation. If a delegate is not selected as the chairperson, the local could lose any votes that cannot be evenly divided among the delegation.

The LOCAL UNION ALTERNATE CREDENTIAL contains a box next to the name of each alternate that must be used to designate the priority in which an alternate is seated at the Convention if a delegate is absent. Most local unions prioritize alternates based on the election results – i.e., the alternate with the highest number of votes is given Priority Number 1, the alternate with the second highest number of votes is given Priority Number 2, etc.

Note: An affiliate may elect one alternate for each elected delegate. If the number of alternate credentials received exceeds the number of delegate credentials, the alternate with the lowest priority designation will not be accepted.

MEMBER INFORMATION

For each delegate and alternate, legibly print in ink or type the following information:

- Member contact and AFSCME identification – name, AFSCME member number, home address, personal email, personal cell phone;
- Name and number of the member's home local union or retiree chapter;
- Name and number of the affiliate the delegate is representing at the Convention.

PROXY DELEGATES (Local Unions Only)

A local union may send to the Convention an elected delegate from another local union or council within the same jurisdiction (i.e., same council, organizing committee, state, commonwealth or territory) to represent it at the Convention.

The name and number of the local union whose membership voted to send another delegate to represent it at the Convention should be inserted in the “Member is a Delegate representing” box referenced in the Member Information section above.

METHOD OF ELECTION

Delegates and alternates must either be elected by the membership or designated under the affiliate’s constitution to be an automatic delegate or alternate delegate to the Convention by virtue of a secret ballot election to office by the membership.

Indicate the method by which the delegate or alternate was selected.

Note: Delegates elected by Executive Board or Delegate Assembly are not eligible to vote in the election of International Officers.

If selected by Delegate Election (Section 1) indicate whether the election was by: A) the membership or B) the Executive Board or Delegate Assembly. Provide the date (MM/DD/YYYY) on which the election was held.

If selected as an Automatic Delegate by virtue of holding a position under the affiliate’s constitution (Section 2) indicate whether the member was elected to the position by: A) the membership or B) the Executive Board or Delegate Assembly. Provide the position held and the date (MM/DD/YYYY) on which the member was elected to the position.

Note: Nominations and elections shall not be held more than 120 days prior to the International Convention – April 14, 2024 – unless the affiliate meets less often than quarterly or the member is elected as a delegate or alternate by virtue of a position under the affiliate’s constitution.

OFFICER CERTIFICATION

All delegate and alternate credential forms must be signed by the president and secretary of the affiliate they are representing. After the forms are signed, copies should be made for the delegates and alternates, as well as for the affiliate’s files.

Note: The secretary of an affiliate includes any officer holding the position of recording secretary, secretary-treasurer, corresponding secretary, financial secretary, etc.

PRE-CONVENTION SUBMISSION

The original of the completed and signed delegate or alternate credential forms, along with other required materials (see checklist on page 10), should be mailed to the attention of the International Secretary-Treasurer in the enclosed postage-paid envelope. These materials must be postmarked no later than Tuesday, July 23, 2024. Credentials postmarked later than Tuesday, July 23, 2024, will be treated as irregular and will preclude the seating of the delegates and/or alternates at the opening of the Convention.

CONVENTION REGISTRATION SUBMISSION

All delegates and alternates must register in person at the Convention. Original credential forms that are not received by the International Secretary-Treasurer before the Convention must be submitted by the delegate when they appear to register at the Convention. No delegate or alternate can be seated at the Convention without a properly completed and submitted credential form.

PRE-CONVENTION CHECKLIST

Election of Delegates Checklist

The following is a checklist of procedures affiliates should follow when nominating and electing delegates and alternates to the International Convention.

See Requirements for Election of Delegates on pages 6-7 for more details.

- Notices of Nomination and Election
At least 15 days prior to the nomination and election of delegates and alternates the affiliate must mail written notice to the home addresses of its membership. The notices must contain the date, time and location of the nomination and election meetings. No nomination or election shall be held more than 120 days prior to the International Convention – April 14, 2024 – unless the affiliate meets less often than quarterly or the member is elected as a delegate or alternate by virtue of a position under the affiliate's constitution.
- Nominations Meeting
Nominations may be made at a regular or special meeting. Any member in good standing is eligible to be nominated as a delegate or alternate.
- Secret Ballot Election
In any contested election of delegates and alternates the election must be conducted by secret ballot vote. Voting may be conducted by mail or at a meeting.
- Election Materials
At the conclusion of the election of delegates and alternates, all election-related materials must be sealed in a box and retained by the affiliate for at least one year. Election materials include, but are not limited to meeting sign-in sheets, ballots (cast, blank, voided), tally sheets and, if applicable, electronic voting system reports.

Convention Return Envelope Checklist

The following is a checklist of materials affiliates should return to the International Union in the enclosed pre-paid envelope, addressed to the AFSCME Secretary-Treasurer.

Delegate and Alternate Credential forms must be received or postmarked by Tuesday, July 23, 2024.

- Delegate Credential Forms
Official certification of delegates to the Convention. If a local has elected more than one delegate, only one may be designated to serve as the chairperson.
- Alternate Credential Forms
Official certification of alternates to the Convention. If a local union has elected more than one alternate, each must be assigned a priority number for seating.
- Voter Authorization Form
A majority of the delegates from an individual local union, who have been registered and seated at the Convention, may join together to designate one member of the local's delegation ("Authorized Voter") to cast their share of votes in all officer elections in which they are eligible to participate. Designation of an Authorized Voter must be made on a Voter Authorization Form.
- Report of Elected Officers
All affiliates are required to report to the International Secretary-Treasurer the names, addresses and terms of office for newly elected officers (Article IX, Section 4). If your affiliate has not submitted a list following your most recent election, you may provide updates on the enclosed form or visit: afscme.org/officer-reports to submit the form online.
